“Morality is always the aim at that union of harmony, intensity, and vividness which involves the perfection of importance for that occasion. The codifications carry us beyond our own direct immediate insights.” (p. 14)

“Whether we destroy, or whether we preserve, our action is moral if we have thereby safeguarded the importance of experience so far as it depends on that concrete instance in the world’s history.” (p. 15)

Auditors are welcome and are expected to do the readings, attend class, and participate in both class discussion and small-group exercises.

1. Daily participation includes participation in class discussions, presentations, and small-group exercises. Small-group exercises can take a variety of forms. Among the possible forms for small-group exercises are quizzes, writing essays, and analyzing an item or some items based upon information contained in the assigned material.

2. Homework assignments, both reading and written, will be given. Written homework assignments are based upon the assigned readings. Both the due date and the specific assignment will be confirmed in class. Opportunity to discuss most homework assignments will be available during class time.

   Each written homework assignment is worth up to 20 points and is due at the beginning of the designated class period. Each assignment is to be typed, using an appropriate style such as MLA or APA, and 500-750 words (2-3 pages) in length. Spelling and grammar are good and are included in each assignment of points. Late written homework may not be accepted. (Note: Written homework turned in by students who arrive late to class is considered late homework and may not be accepted.)

3. The Mid-Term Exam will be distributed on March 8, 2006 and is due at the beginning of class on March 22, 2006. This exam will consist of one set of two essay questions, from which one question is to be selected and discussed in detail. The essay must be typed, using an appropriate form such as MLA or APA, and be 1000-1250 words in length. Up to 40 pts. possible.

4. Term papers are due by 5:00 p.m. on May 12, 2006. Please deliver to the Center for Process Studies. Early term papers are appreciated. Each paper is to be either 3000-4000 words in length (12-15 pages) or 6000-8000 words (24-30 pages), typed, using an appropriate style such as MLA or APA. A 12-15 page paper is worth up to 100 points. A 24-30 page paper is worth up to 200 points. Spelling and grammar count. Each term paper topic must be approved by the instructor. (Please see Paper Evaluation Form on page 5 of this syllabus.)

5. Presentations can be made during class, beginning on March 29, 2006. For each presentation the student must provide a one-page outline for the other students, as well as a detailed outline for the instructor. The presentation, including a question and answer session, can range from 20 to 30 minutes in length. The topic must be approved by the instructor. Up to 80 points possible. (Please see Presentation Evaluation Form on page 4 of this syllabus.)
6. Final Examination: The Final Examination will be a take home exam worth up to 80 pts. The exam will be distributed on May 3, 2006 at the end of the last regular class meeting and is due at the beginning of the Final Exam period, most likely May 10, 2006. This exam will consist of four essay questions each, from which two questions will be selected and discussed in detail. Each response must be typed, using an appropriate form such as MLA or APA, and be 1000-1250 words in length. Up to 40 pts. per question; 80 pts.total.

7. Extra Credit opportunities will be available throughout the semester. See CPS Spring 2006 events schedule for possibilities.

Please see the Claremont School of Theology Spring 2006 Semester Course Schedule, the current Claremont School of Theology Catalog, and the Academic Advising Degree Handbooks for the general policies and procedures governing this course. (to wit—no plagiarism)

“At the heart of the nature of things, there are always the dream of youth and the harvest of tragedy. The Adventure of the Universe starts with the dream and reaps tragic beauty. This is the secret of the union of Zest with Peace:—That the suffering attains its end in a Harmony of Harmonies. The immediate experience of this Final Fact, with its union of Youth and Tragedy, is the sense of Peace. In this way the world receives it persuasion towards such perfections as are possible for its diverse individual occasions.”
